ATLANTIC LINER WRECKED AT SEA

Passengers, Rescued Many of Them in Their Night Clothes.

ONLY 2 LIVES LOST

Steamer Waeeland Sunk by a British Vessel, Off the Coast of Wales.

CRASH IN A DENSE FOG

Liverpool, March 7.—When the passengers of the sunken steamer Waeeland arrived here many of them were attired only in their night clothing. All praise the discipline displayed during the trying time following the collision. The women and children were given first places in the boats, all the men standing aside until they had been provided for. The last boats leaving the steamer contained the officers and crew.

All were just fairly well under way when the water reached the boilers and they exploded. The vessel trembled as in death agony and then disappeared under the waters.

While most of the Waeeland's boats reached the Hermonides easily, one took a wrong course in the fog and it was two hours before it could be found and picked up. Another was swamped, but was righted and all the occupants rescued. The Waeeland's passengers will be forwarded by the steamer Nordland next Wednesday.

Collided in a Fog

The Waeeland left Liverpool Wednesday for Philadelphia. During the fog, it is stated, she came into collision with the Houston liner Hermonides. Captain Rentin, which sails between Liverpool and Buenos Ayres.

The damage to the Hermonides is not known, but the Waeeland was so badly damaged that she at once began to sink.

The Waeeland carried thirty-two cabin and eighty-two steerage passengers.

Unfortunately, two lives were lost. The dead are a steerage passenger named Danglerfeld and a child named Elsie Emmett, the daughter of a cabin passenger.

Built as a Cunarder.

Formerly the old Cunarder Russia, the Waeeland had seen thirty-five years of Atlantic service, first as one of the rack ships of the Cunard company, in which line she remained until in the early '80s, when the line disposed of its older vessels to enter the field of competition with faster and more pretentious vessels.

The Russia was bought in by the Red Star Line, renamed the Waeeland and placed in the Antwerp service of the company, and for many years sailed between that port and New York. More recently she had been running on the line's new service between Philadelphia and Liverpool which is controlled by the International Navigation company.

Etruria Not Arrived

London, March 7.—The Cunard liner Etruria has not yet arrived at the Azores. The Cunard officials however are confident that the boat is all right.

Washington, D. C., March 7.—In the testimony of General Hughes before the Philippine commission today, Mr. Patterson again did some sharp questioning, which brought from General Hughes the statement that the Filipinos wished absolute independence without any reservations as to an American protectorate. He said that he must have some answer to bring back to the representatives of Aguinaldo, who were investing Manila, otherwise they could not be held in check.

Wisconsin will be well represented at the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs, to be held in Los Angeles, May 1 to 8. The meeting being held so far away, will keep many women from going who would otherwise attend, but notwithstanding this obstacle, Wisconsin will be there in force.

Entitled to 200 Seats

Nearly 200 Wisconsin women are entitled to sit in the conclave of the biennial. There are 141 clubs of women in the State Federation, and by the rules of the General Federation the president of each of the clubs is entitled to a seat in the biennial. There is an apportionment representation also, by means of which many of the clubs in the state are entitled to additional delegates. The State Federation is entitled to ten delegates at large so that when the biennial begins its sessions in Los Angeles, Wisconsin will have a goodly share of delegates.

The ten delegates appointed by the State Federation a few days ago are:

Mrs. Henry M. Youmans, Waukesha, president of the State Federation; Mrs. Charles S. Morris, Berlin; Mrs. W. H. Crosby, Racine; Mrs. T. H. Brown, Milwaukee; Mrs. J. A. Klemmer, Neenah; Mrs. J. C. Medbury, Fond du Lac; Mrs. Isaac Stephenson, Marinette; Mrs. George Raymer, Madison; Mrs. Henry Earl, Lake Mills, and Miss Harriet L. Cutler, Milwaukee.

In Existence Six Years

The Wisconsin Federation of Women's clubs has been in existence since 1896. In that year the Milwaukee College Endowment association, at that time a part of the General Federation, sent out a call to the women's clubs of the state, to join it, in a meeting for the purpose of organizing into a State Federation. The meeting was held at the Pfister hotel on October 20 and 21, 1896. Five hundred representative women of the state responded and the organization of the federation was accomplished. Forty-eight clubs were included in the federation and Mrs. C. S. Morris of Berlin, Wis., was elected the first president.

Consider Next Place of Meeting

The selection of a place for the next meeting of the association was left to the executive committee, and the following committee was appointed on resolutions: B. J. Price of the Hudson Star and Times, C. G. Starks of the Berlin Journal, H. F. Bliss for the Janesville Gazette.

The programme for today's session is as follows:

9:30 a. m.—Paper, "Keep in the Rut," Henry E. Rothe, Milwaukee Times.

Paper, "Current Events Illustrated in a Weekly Newspaper," Miss Alotta Goodhue, Trempealeau Hotel.

H. W. Cheever, Herald, Clinton, will have something to say relative to couronnes and roles for the state exhibit.

2 p. m.—Paper, "The Labor We See," Burt Williams, Ashland News.

Discussion—"Second Class, Mail Abuse," led by E. D. Coo, Whitewater Register.

Discussion—"The Summer Outing."

Election of officers.

Adjournment.

Evening Soirée parties will be arranged after the choice of several theaters.

Banquet by the Sentinel

The members of the Wisconsin Press association were entertained at a banquet given by the Milwaukee Sentinel company at the Hotel Pfister last night. For an hour previous to the banquet there was an informal reception which was attended by the editors, their wives and their sweethearts. The guests were met by Manager George H. Clements and Managing Editor M. C. Douglas of the Sentinel.

At the conclusion of the feast

George H. Clements introduced E. T. Wheelock, the principal editorial writer of the paper. Mr. Wheelock said: "The Sentinel company is glad to be able to entertain the editors of the state. There should be a closer union between the press of Milwaukee. Our interests were common. We all wish to promote the interests of Wisconsin."

President Edward L. Luckow responded for the editorial guests. "The Wisconsin Press association has been entertained in all parts of the country," he said, "and we have often wondered if we should ever be entertained as well anywhere else as we have been upon some of our trips. The banquet tonight has proven the truth of the saying there is no place like home."

Mr. Luckow extolled the Sentinel and its management. A dance followed at Masonic hall.

MISS ALICE WILL NOT GO TO LONDON

Washington, D. C., March 7.—It is believed that Alice Roosevelt's trip to Cuba upon which she starts Sunday has been substituted for the proposed visit to the coronation of King Edward. The president, it is said, feels that his daughter has been brought into much prominence during the social gayeties of the past season and by reason of Prince Henry's visit and that the trip to London would therefore be undesirable.

Robbers Overlook Bonds.

Washington, Ind., March 7.—The Montgomery bank robbers did not secure the $3,700 worth of bonds, these being found in the wreckage. Four thousand dollars in cash was carried away.

Harvard Honors Prince

Boston, Mass., March 7.—Prince Henry of Prussia was the guest of Boston yesterday and his welcome to the city was a cordial one. Governor Winthrop Murray Crane and Mayor Collins, acting for the State and the city, extended the official courtesies to him, and when the Prince ceremoniously returned their calls he went to Cambridge to deliver the gifts of his brother, his Kaiser, to the Germanic Museum and to receive from Harvard the honorary degree of doctor of laws.

Prince Henry's first act at the Harvard union shortly after he received the degree was to propose and lead three cheers for President Roosevelt, who is a Harvard alumnus. The Prince received a telegram from the Emperor congratulating him on his newest honor.

The ten delegates appointed by the State Federation a few days ago are: Mrs. Henry M. Youmans, Waukesha, president of the State Federation; Mrs. Charles S. Morris, Berlin; Mrs. W. H. Crosby, Racine; Mrs. T. H. Brown, Milwaukee; Mrs. J. A. Klemmer, Neenah; Mrs. J. C. Medbury, Fond du Lac; Mrs. Isaac Stephenson, Marinette; Mrs. George Raymer, Madison; Mrs. Henry Earl, Lake Mills, and Miss Harriet L. Cutler, Milwaukee.

Results That Have Been Achieved

The most notable achievement of the Wisconsin in the Federation is the endowment of the chair of domestic science in the Milwaukee-Dowling college accomplished last October at the Madison convention. The endowment of this chair which will mean the practical training of many girls in home duties is the tangible result of a long cherished theory.

Alding other women, whose lives have been cast in less pleasant places than their own, is an aim of club women. They take intense interest in the work of the Consumers' League. Beautifying the communities in which they live is a kind of work that especially appeals to these women, and they have accomplished much good in this line, both in the awakening of public sentiment, and in actual work which they have done.

HANNA CHAMPIONS SUBSIDY BILL

Urge Passage of Measure in Behalf of American Workmen.

CONGRATULATED BY SENATORS

ays 95 Per Cent of the Cost of Ship
Construction Goes for Labor—Auxiliary Merchant Marine Under Direction of Naval Department Necessary.

Washington, March 7.—Senator Hanna as the champion of the pending shipping bill was the feature of the day in the Senate. He urged its passage both from a patriotic standpoint and as a measure in behalf of American labor. Speaking as an American business man, he marshaled his arguments in a masterly manner, and throughout used forceful and eloquent language. Such was the impression he made that many of his colleagues congratulated him when he had ended.

"Will anybody deny," said he, in possibly the most effective part of his speech, "the importance—the absolute necessity of having an auxiliary for our navy in the form of a merchant marine shaped under the direction of the Navy Department, and, in time of war, absolutely in the hands and under the control of the President of the United States to use it in the most effective manner?"

On the subject of labor he said Mr. Clay was correct when he quoted from Mr. Frye's remarks that all there was in this subject which required legislation was embraced in the one question of labor. "I stand by that proposition," he added, "but I go further. The ore in the ground is worth about 25 cents a ton. After it was touched by the hand of man it was labor. Ninety-five per cent of the cost of a ship built in American shipyards or in any shipyard is purely labor. The cost of the construction of a ship in the United States as against that in either England, Germany or France, simply measures the difference of wages and the efficiency of American labor."

Early in the session Mr. Frye, in charge of the bill obtained an agreement that the Senate should vote on the measure and all pending amendments at 3 p. m. Monday, March 17, that time being entirely satisfactory to those opposed to the bill.

Before consideration of the bill was resumed there was an extended debate on the measure providing for the protection of the President of the United States. Mr. Bacon took the ground that in its present shape the bill was an invasion of the jurisdiction of the states and that it ought to be amended radically. Mr. Patterson, while he agreed to the general propositions of the bill, urged that it ought not to pass in its present form. No action was taken.

The House devoted another day to debate on the bill to classify the rural free delivery service and to place the carriers under contract. A vote is expected to-day.

No damages for Maine Seamen.

Washington, March 7.—The Spanish treaty claims commission has handed down a decision against the claimants for death and injuries received by the officers and seamen in the wreck of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor. The commission holds that "individual claims of citizens of one nation may arise against the government of another nation for redress to injuries to persons or property which such citizens may have sustained from such government or any of its agents, but such individual claims do not arise in favor of the officers and seamen of a ship of war who receive, in the line of duty, injuries to their persons for which a foreign government is responsible. The claim against the foreign government is wholly national and all injuries to such officers and seamen are merged in the national injury; and they can look only to their own government for such remuneration as it may choose to give them." The claims so far filed with the commission which will be affected by this decision amount to about $2,500,000, which probably would be increased to $5,000,000 had the decision been favorable to the claimants. Commissioner Chambers filed a dissenting opinion.

Gains in National Banks.

Washington, March 7.—A report issued by the Treasury Department shows that since the passage of the act of March 14, 1900, there have been organized 878 national banking associations, with aggregate capital stock of $48,519,000 and bond deposits of $12,872,400. Of these 582, with aggregate capital of $15,231,000, had individual capital of less than $50,000 and bond deposits of $5,293,900, and 296 associations, with aggregate capital of $33,265,000 and bond deposits of $7,568,500, were with individual capital of $50,000 or over. During the last month there was an average of one bank organized daily. At the close of business on Feb. 28 there were in active operation 4,385 national banking associations, with authorized capital stock of $673,279,195; bonds on deposit to secure circulation, $322,575,000; circulation outstanding secured by bonds, $329,071,921.

Chinese Zones.

Washington, March 7.—The United States has received fresh pledges from Russia and also from Germany as to the conservation of commercial rights of other nations in China within the zones of influence of the above-named powers. The Russian promise is regarded as quite as binding as any written statement can be made. In the case of Germany, which power has been projecting some railroad and kindred enterprises in Shan Tung province back of Kiao Chou, the German naval port on the Chinese coast, the state department has been assured that there is no intention to exclude the citizens of other nations from any advantages to be enjoyed in that quarter of China by Germans.

Valuable Timber Burning in Texas.

We are recommending Vinol with most excellent results—it is just the tonic, strength and flesh builder that people need after a severe illness—the Grippe or a Fever.

A Prominent Physician Cured by Vinol.

"Your Statement in regard to Vinol as a tonic has proved true in my case. I was run down from overwork and not having fully recovered from a long siege of Grippe found myself in a very debilitated condition, when Vinol was suggested to me. I am perfectly well and able to attend to my work. I have recommended it to many of my patients with the best results."—M. A. JENKS, M. D., 87 North Main Street, Pawtucket, R. I.

How Vinol Cured Frank Cloyd's Son.

"My son had a bad attack of Grippe which left him with a cough at night, could not sleep and no appetite. He took one bottle of Vinol and now is able to sleep and eat well. Vinol is the best medicine I ever saw."—FRANK CLOYD, 229 East Main St., Benton Harbor, Mich.

We want every one in this place to know more about our Vinol, how it cures and what it cures. Certainly the greatest tonic and rebuilding we have ever sold. We, therefore, cordially invite any one interested to call upon us, and we want all to bear in mind that we will gladly refund to any one who is not satisfied with the action of Vinol, every cent they paid for it.

THE AGE OF PROGRESS.

It is difficult in this rapidly advancing age to keep pace with the new discoveries that are being made. If a man who died ten years could come back to life, he would find it hard to believe his own sight. Many of the so-called inventions of the age are more properly discoveries. Marconi in his wonderful achievements with wireless telegraphy, is simply applying some of the latent forces of nature. The same atmospheric conditions which, when utilized, carry sounds across the ocean, have existed for ages. There is nothing new about the conditions, and they were not invented to meet the discovery of the fertile brain that is applying them to practical purposes. This is true of the telephone, and of other great discoveries of modern times.

When the forests of the north gave out, and people predicted that building enterprises would be retarded because material could not be obtained, the discovery was made that the common iron ore, of which there was an inexhaustible supply, could be readily converted into steel of the finest quality, and so building industry was revolutionized in a day. It is no longer a question of wood and timber, for structural steel has transplanted it, and the great buildings all over the country are iron from basement to roof, while a railroad bridge of any other material is a novelty.

Some one has recently discovered that cement, cast in ordinary wooden moulds, something like the adobe, used in Mexico, makes a substantial and cheap dwelling house, and Edison predicts that within a very few years, an ordinary cottage can be built in a month from material made on the ground, and at prices within the reach of a very moderate income. A church of this description has just been completed in Brooklyn, and a court house and jail is in process of construction at Mineola, Long Island. They are called poured buildings, and the process is similar to that used by the Chicago, Milwaukee &amp; St. Paul road in building the abutments to their new bridge. Mr. Edison claims that the supply of cement is inexhaustable and that in time it will be furnished much cheaper than any other class of building material.

Nature is indeed a wonderful store house. Its resources are so scattered and so varied, that they meet the requirements of advancing civilization at every turn. The oil fields of Texas are being duplicated in California and utilized in the railway service. The Santa Fe system are using oil burners exclusively on the western end of their line and find it economical and very effective. The fireman shovels no coal, but with one hand on the steam jet valve, and the other on the oil valve, maintains a pressure of 160 pounds, without a pound of variation for the entire run. The largest freight mogul ever built, has just been put in service by this company. She has tankage capacity for 4,000 gallons of oil, and handles 100 cars without an effort.

The question of wood pulp for paper has been a serious problem, as the supply is exhausted and unless the Canadian product can be admitted, duty free, it was a question of what manufacturers could do for a substitute.

But some man with an inquiring mind has recently made the discovery that corn husks contain better fiber than wood pulp, and the outlook is encouraging for corn husk paper.

When the industry is fully developed every farmer can have his own paper mill, and in hot political times like the present, when his paper don't suit him, he can set up a little printing press in the barn and edit his own paper. Almost every man knows how to run a newspaper, and when he can manufacture his own print from corn husks, there will be nothing to prevent his trying it.

There are many things that are still undeveloped, and among them economical use of fuel. It is generally admitted that more fuel goes up the chimney, than remains in the house, and that but a fraction of the heat contained in coal is utilized.

This fact comes home with a good deal of force, when a man pays for ten tons of coal to heat an ordinary house. It ought to be as easy to heat a house by electricity as it is to light it, and the time is coming at no distant day, when it will be done. When this is accomplished and the secret is discovered, "how to live on one meal a day," we will be a nation of inflated bond holders.

It looks as though governor Yates, of Illinois, would also be a one term governor. He appears to be a little previous to suit the politicians, and a senatorial fight of some magnitude makes conditions very complicated.

Billy Mason will have to go, and Culkin does not seem to be in the best of odor.

Mayor Rose, in his loyalty and enthusiasm for American institutions, permitted himself to go a little too far, in his address of welcome to Prince Henry. While all that he said was true, it was not well timed, and the occasion was one of the few things that marred the pleasure of the reception. The fire department had the satisfaction of a display before an appreciative audience, but the Prince was too cold to enjoy it, and so was not a spectator.

New Jersey magistrate has discovered an improved method for dealing with youthful criminals. Six boys were convicted of breaking into freight cars. They had the option of 30 days in jail or a spanking in the court room. The parents of the juveniles decided in favor of the latter, and two burly policemen administered the sentence. The boys stand up while they eat, but have promised to reform.

Because a couple of teachers in a running town in Indiana, patronized a street line that was being boycotted, eighty five of their scholars took their books and marched out of the building that might properly be called a sympathetic strike.

The telephone girls, of Appleton, don't propose to have the superintendent pay all of his attention to one girl, and so seven of them went on a strike. The favorite was removed and harmony restored.

PRESS COMMENT.

Whitehead. Horcom Reporter: Senator Whitehead is a clean man of unimpeachable character and one who will grow in the estimation of the people by the contract with them which a political canvass necessitates.

Columbus Republican: A candidate is wanted at this time broad-minded enough to recognize his whole party at least, and believing John M. Whitehead to be such a man, this paper cordially supports him for the nomination.

Menomonie News: Senator Whitehead is regarded as a sound and conservative Republican, and a man whose honesty, integrity and ability have won the confidence of the people. His record as a legislator has been distinguished for the wise and practical measures of reform with which he has been identified. If any change is to be made in the office of governor, the mantle cannot fall on a more worthy and capable citizen than John M. Whitehead.

Augusta Times: Mr. Whitehead is not a politician, neither is he a man whom the politicians can handle for base or dishonest purposes. He is a man of integrity and honor. He has a pride of manhood, and if this is too fiercely assailed he may feel that common decency requires him to retire from the contest. Time will prove whether this situation shall be.

Racine Journal: Senator Whitehead is thoroughly honest in everything he does. His convictions are those founded upon what is right, what is equity and what is practical. Honesty has always marked his course both in private and public life, and as governor of Wisconsin, he will advocate no measure savoring of unjust restriction, and at all times seek the best to be had. It will be a wise choice.

Shelton News: From all we have heard of Mr. Whitehead, he is a man thoroughly competent to assume the duties of the office. He has made a special study of the taxation problem for several years, and his knowledge on this subject should be worth considerable to the state. It has become quite evident that some one other than the present incumbent of the office will be elected governor next fall and Mr. Whitehead seems to be a good man to be a.

Racine Journal: And now La Follette is camping on the trail of Congressman Babcock, and threatens him unless he wheels into line for the governor. The proposition to run State Treasurer Davidson against Babcock is the governor's latest move, and while nothing is said of the terms on which peace may be bought, the inference is plain that the governor finds the congressman from the Third district is a very big man and he needs him in the business. It is not apparent however, that Mr. Babcock has any intention of going into partnership with the governor.

GREAT SALT LAKE SINKING. The decline in the surface of Great Salt Lake is causing apprehension among people of Utah. This interesting body of water has been steadily sinking for a number of years, but the cause of its decline are not well understood. It is thought by some that the lake is subject to cycles of change which correspond to cycles of years of heavy and light rainfall and that it is now undergoing one of its low water periods from which it will soon revive. The movements in the waters have also been thought to be related to the development of agricultural and grazing interests, which divert large quantities of water from the streams which feed the lake for use upon the land.

Dublin, Ind., March 7.—Fire is raging in the northern part of the town and the efforts of the local department, together with Cambridge City department, which has been brought here, have been of no avail as yet. The fire started in the plant of the Hatfield factory, operated by the National Manufacturing Company of Hodgenville, Ky., which was destroyed. Many wealthy residences are on fire and the whole town is endangered.

Named for Prince Henry.

Indianapolis, March 7.—This city claims the distinction of the first American-born child to be named after Prince Henry. The board of health received a return of the birth Sunday of Prince Henry Proeschell, son of George and Regilla Proeschell. The baby was born just about the time the special train bearing Prince Henry pulled into Indianapolis.

THE HOME AS A SCHOOL.

The old-fashioned folks who believe that a well-ordered home is the best training place for girls will find comfort and encouragement in the views expressed yesterday at the meeting of the School Superintendents' Association.

It was Prof. D. L. Kleble of the University of Minnesota who set the discussion in full swing by bluntly stating that a girl should learn how to cook before she tackles Greek, a sentiment which was warmly endorsed by a woman delegate in the words, "Women should be educated in domestic economy and not in Sanskrit." It is worthy of note that hearty applause greeted both expressions, but in simple justice to the question it must be added that there are very few women at the convention.

It would be unfair to conclude that Professor Kleble is opposed to the higher education of women. He believes that there should be effected in them the final and noblest application of all our wealth and learning. They must educate themselves for the home, so that in turn may take the noblest place a woman can occupy that of a teacher in the home. "Science should be applied to the care of the home and children just as much as to the care of stock on the farm."

There is an apparent danger of the home being sacrificed to a mistaken desire for intellectual attainment. Perhaps the higher education of women is being somewhat misdirected; but if so, it will carry its own correction. There will be a reaction toward the home, for however much a woman may change her fail or even her ambitions she cannot change her nature.

The home must ever stand as her kingdom, and no woman is so useful as the wife and mother who brings her own highest attainments and best culture to bear upon the finishing of superior manhood and womanhood in the home growth of her own children.—Chicago Post.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: While willing that Senator Tillman and McLaurin should get off with censure, for the exhibition they made of themselves, republican senators have by no means abandoned their contention that it is within the constitutional rights of the senate to suspend its members when in its judgment such punishment is deserved.

SMILES.

"How's the baby?" asked the mother who had run in next door to see a neighbor and had been detained.

"Madam," coldly replied the father, who had been temporarily left in charge of the infant, "your solicitude is for the wrong person. If you have any sympathy to waste give it to me—the baby doesn't need it; half so much."—Chicago Post.

Faremr Mossbacher—What's the object in organizin' a new political party, anyhow?

Farmer Stackpole—Why—Good gosh, Lyman!—there's a whole lot of tellers that can't get office in either of the old parties?—Puck.

"Lady," said Meandering Mike, "have you any coffee or mince pie or—"

"Haven't you been here twice before?"

"Lady, I have. I'm too good a judge of cookin' to let such performances as yours go without an encore."—Washington Star.

"My wife told me to order some cards to be engraved," said a meek little man, with a stunted voice. "Is this the place?"

"Yes. What is the inscription to be?"

"Why—er—Mrs. and Mr. Henry Fock is what she wants."—Philadelphia Press.

Strike Settlement Likely.

South Bend, Ind., March 7.—There are signs of a settlement of the strike at the Singer Sewing Machine works, where 1,800 men have been on a strike for fifteen days. Through the intervention of State Labor Commissioners McCormack and Schmid, the strikers have modified one of their demands. It has been agreed that all the striking employees, whether union men or not, may attend the conferences. The company has agreed to recognize union labor in its plant and will agree to hear appeals of various grades of complaints, the state commissioners to be the final arbitrators in unsettled difficulties. The wage question now seems to be the chief contention.

Joseph Letter Returns Tax Tender.

LaPorte, Ind., March 7.—Between 1870 and 1888 the Mak-Saw-Da club of Chicago obtained through purchase of tax titles 600 acres of marsh land in Laporte County, to be used for hunting grounds.

In the last few years this land, once hardly worth a song, has become exceedingly valuable, being productive because of construction of drainage canals. The original owners and heirs have now taken steps to redeem the land, but Joseph Letter, ex-wheat king, acting for his father, L. Z. Letter, president of the club, turned down a tender of taxes and interest to date. This means litigation for possession of the property.

Fire at Dublin, Ind.

Dublin, Ind., March 7.—Fire is raging in the northern part of the town and the efforts of the local department, together with Cambridge City department, which has been brought here, have been of no avail as yet.

The fire started in the plant of the Hatfield factory, operated by the National Manufacturing Company of Hodgenville, Ky., which was destroyed.

RAPID PROGRESS OF ELECTRIC LINE

IT WILL BE RUNNING BETWEEN HERE AND ROCKFORD JUNE 1.

Traffic Will Be Open Between Beloit and Rockford by May 1—Arrangements Under Way to Celebrate the Opening of the Southern Half of the Road.

Mr. Clough is making rapid progress in the construction of the Beloit, Delavan Lake and Janesville electric road. The line between Rockford and Beloit is almost ready for traffic and the stretch between Beloit and Janesville will be in operation by June 1.

Steel for the electric railway bridge over Turtle creek is being unloaded today and will be placed in position as soon as possible. The false work for the bridge is all up and the putting in of steel will occupy but a short time. The boilers for the power house at Beloit are on the side track and will be put in the power house in a day or two.

The stringing of wire on the road has been completed from Rockford to within a short distance of Rockton and will be done by next week.

Mr. Clough is already making plans for a grand opening of the railway between Beloit and Rockford. Invitations have been extended to officials of both of the roads entering Beloit and a number of notable people will make the initial trip over the new line. It will doubtless prove a gala event in the history of this city as it will mark the beginning of a new era in its progress.

With the completion of the Turtle creek structure the bridging will all be done and the track all laid from that bridge to Rockford. Ballasting is already well under way, poles are set and the stringing of trolley, feed and telephone wires has been completed for a considerable part of the distance. Cars will be running by May 1 as predicted by the management last fall.

The contract for the car barn at Beloit has been let to the Conant Manufacturing Co., of Watertown, Wis. It will be erected in the rear of the power house and its dimensions will be 40x150 feet. The construction is to be of iron. It will admit three tracks and will hold nine cars. In addition to this there will be room left for a car repair shop at one side.
The contract price of the barn is $4, 500.

The contract for the erection of the two substations for the distribution of power has been let to Schenckel Bros., of Beloit. One will be located five miles north of Rockford and the other four miles south of Janesville.
The one near Rockford will be completed March 20 and the one this side of Janesville April 15.

The timber for the company's portion of the central city bridge is enroute from the state of Washington.
It is all Washington fir—stronger and more lasting than any other timber to be found in this country.

SALVATION ARMY CLOSING SERVICE

The closing meeting of a series of meetings conducted by the Salvation army, assisted by about a score of delegates from neighboring armies was held at the Congregational church last evening. The meeting was also a union meeting of the evangelical churches of the city and a very large number were present.

After a song service by the entire army and a divine invocation, the services were conducted according to the methods of the army, with Col.
Margetts of Minneapolis as leader and Major Glenn as assistant. The visiting officers departed for their homes this morning, whose names and homes are as follows:

The visiting officers are Lieut. Col.
Margetts of Minneapolis; Major Peter Gum and wife of Milwaukee; Staff
Capt. Carter of Milwaukee; Ensign and Mrs. Williamson of Belvidere, Ill.; Ensign and Mrs. Jones of Rockford, Ill.; Capt. and Mrs. Foss of Beloit, Wis.; Capt. Jorgenson and her two lieutenants of Racine, Wis.; Mrs.
Capt. Wilson, and two daughters of Monmouth, Ill.

The Twilight Club

The annual science meeting of the Twilight club will be held at the Hotel
Myers on Tuesday evening next under the leadership of H. C. Buell.
The science meeting is usually one of the most interesting meetings of the course and Prof. Buell will make it interesting to all. The topic has been divided into five sub-topics, as follows: Hygienic disposal of sewage;
Communicable diseases; Modern

Leaf Tobacco Notes

There was a trifle more activity noticeable in the buying of the 1901 crop but buying has not become general by any means. In a few sections there are more crops being sold than for several weeks past. In the immediate vicinity of Janesville the sale of the new crop drags at a slow and tardy pace.

The farmers are still continuing to assort and case their tobacco to await a change in the market believing the conditions will be more favorable later on.

In old goods one of the largest sales ever made in this city was consummated this week when Frank S. Barnes sold 3,065 cases of the growth of 1900 to the American cigar company through its state agent Mr. N. P. Strauss of Madison. Although the price is not made public the total amount involved is not far from $125,000. The lot included all of the tops or best grades in a packing of about 6,000 cases. Aside from this sale the market was uneventful.

There is some increase in the number of employees engaged in assorting tobacco, but the number is still far from that of former years.

There is evidently a disposition in some localities to grant a concession in the price asked by growers for their tobacco, which is leading to a more generous movement of the crop, as evidenced by the sales recorded this week, says the Edgerton Reporter. While the buying by no means approaches the usual conditions of a lively market, there is reason to believe that dealers will become more active as the prices demanded come near their ideas of what they feel warranted in paying. As the spring months approach growers have always been willing to grant these concessions rather than sort and pack their tobacco, and yet a good many farmers are arranging to assort and pack their crops upon the farm or hire it done in local warehouses.

Work has commenced on the new England tobacco brought into the state which is being closely graded. S. Tobacco Journal.

STATE WORSTED IN MERGER FIGHT.

Minnesota Cannot Interfere with the Northern Securities Company.

BARRED FROM TAKING ACTION

Supreme Court Decision Decides State Cannot Represent Both Sides of a Controversy in Equity—Railroads Must Be Present as Parties Defendant.

St. Paul, Minn., March 7.—The state of Minnesota is barred by the decision of the Supreme court from taking action in any court against the Northern Securities company.

This remarkable state of affairs has been made plain to local attorneys interested in the case, since receiving copies of the court's decision. Its effect is that the state cannot join issues with the corporation, either in the Supreme court or Circuit courts, and as the state courts cannot reach it, the bar is effectual.

As far as the recent suit is concerned, the issue seems to be closed, but for future suits of the sort the rule is regarded as most unfortunate. There is only one way to alter it, and that is by an act of Congress expressly granting power to the Federal courts to entertain such suits. Such bill may be introduced at this session.

The court denies jurisdiction on the ground that the Great Northern and Northern Pacific companies are necessary parties to the suit, and that the stockholders must be represented in order to do justice. But should they be brought into the case, it would not be a proper case for the Supreme court to consider.

The majority stockholders are represented in the case by the Northern Securities company, but the court holds that the rights of the minority stockholders must be protected, and that, therefore, the Great Northern and Northern Pacific companies must be brought into the action.

"It is not sufficient to say," declares the court, "that the Attorney General or the Governor, or even the Legislature of the state can be conclusively deemed to represent the public in such a controversy as that presented by the bill. Even a state, when she voluntarily becomes a complainant in a court of equity, cannot claim to represent both sides of the controversy. Not only have the stockholders, be they few or many, a right to be heard through the officers and directors whom they have legally selected to represent them, but the general interests of the public, which might be deeply affected by the decree of the court, are entitled to be heard; and that, when the state is the complainant, in a case like the present, can only be affected by the presence of the railroad companies as parties defendant."

A well-known local attorney who has been following the case with some interest says of the decision: "The statement of the court is a remarkable one. Decisions are many on the point that the Attorney General is the legal representative of the state, and is presumed to stand for its interests. The abrogation of this rule is likely to lead to consequences that are not realized."

and as carefully assorted as is done in the east, requiring an unusual amount of painstaking labor.

The market for old goods has developed no new features and only a moderate amount of business is recorded. Andrew Jensen sold a 200 case lot of export grades and E. C. Hopkins a car load of '99 leaf.

The shipments out of storage from this market reach a total of 11 car loads, 510 cases, to all points for the week past. Since last report 1,150 case of cigar leaf were exported from New York.

Trading in the market continues in a rather quiet way. Transactions are limited to small quantities, but they are steady and keep the office forces busy, though the bosses growl and swear they never saw such dull times. Nevertheless, the stock is disappearing and it is difficult to duplicate certain types. There is, in fact, a dearth in all kinds of old leaf, and even the stock of the 1900 crops is wasting away. But one of the most remarkable features of the market seems to be the demand for Porto Rican leaf for re-export to Porto Rico! But this feature again confirms the prediction of the U. S. Tobacco Journal some weeks ago, contained in our observations, that if the British demand for Porto Rican cigars should hold out, the stock of Porto Rican tobacco in our market would have to be reshipped. This forecast seems to have actually materialized now. The sales of domestic leaf during the week aggregated about 2,000 boxes.

The market in Sumatra leaf is sustained by a steady demand for small lots, which enter into immediate consumption. The market in Havana leaf, however, seems to be very slack here, while it appears to be rather brisk in the city of Havana. American buyers from all over the country are just now crowding the island and the supply they are laying in there is naturally lost to our market—it is done in local warehouses.

Helena, Mont., March 7.—Paul Koch, 37 years old, was stabbed to death by Foreman Tighe at the boarding house of the East Pacific mine near Winston.

PIMPLES

And other eruptions which mar the skin are more than a disfigurement and annoyance; they are a positive detriment to the business interests and social successes of the man they mark. Other things being equal, the man with a smooth skin and clear complexion will find it easier to get a good position or a good wife than the man whose face shows the impurity of his blood. That's the real point. The blood is bad. And for that very reason any treatment which is designed to cleanse the skin must cleanse the blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cleanses the blood from the clogging impurities which breed and feed disease, and so cures pimples, boils, eczema, and other diseases which have their cause in impure blood.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains. You lose. Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

GOLF CLUB SHOW WAS PRETTY GOOD

Largest Audience This Season at Myers Grand, Laughed Last Evening—Another Spell Tonight

A magnificent audience that filled the house from bottom to top greeted the first appearance of the Golf club minstrels at the Myers Grand last evening. The performance was given under the auspices of the Mississippi Golf club and directed by Perry M. Webster. It is safe to say that no member of the large audience was dissatisfied with the performance and most of them were surprised that so good a show could be given by home talent. It was without a doubt the best amateur minstrel performance ever given in this city. Everything went off smoothly, the actors had their lines well in hand and their efforts were liberally applauded.

The overture was equal to that of any professional company, the only black face men in this part being the bones and trombones.

George Paris as Interlocutor was hard to beat. He has a clear pleasant voice and performed his part without a slip. W. H. McGovern and Albert Smith on the ends were the stars of the evening and were fine. McGovern especially could make some of the end men that have showed here in traveling companies look like a "three spot" and captured the house. Harry H. Illiss, John Baumann, Harry Phillips and Charles Gage were the other end men. Most of the jokes were good and to the point.

The vocal selections were fine. Geo. Paris leading off with "I've a longing in my heart for you, Louise," and caught the house. Harry Phillips sang "My Drowsy Babe" in a pleasing manner. Chester Morse sang "Simple Little Sister Mary Green" which was one of the gems of the evening and was repeatedly encored.

One of the most remarkable cures accomplished since his arrival in Janesville was that of a well-known citizen, Mr. C. J. Bugh, 103 W. Bluff St., who has been a resident of Janesville for years, and, as is generally known, has been very deaf.

He was treated on the public stage at the Opera House and the next morning was astonished to hear his clock striking, then he heard voices, and before the day was over he readily heard an ordinary conversation.

He has had one treatment since and his hearing is daily improving. He was so overjoyed at the great benefits derived that he wrote the following personal letter to the Boy Phenomenon. It speaks for itself and shows that those who have chronic ailments the rapidity and permanency of a cure by vital magnetism.

This letter is published to show that when results are obtained they are permanent.

Boy Phenomenon: This is to the whole world. I have been treated by the Boy Phenomenon and can say after two treatments for my hearing and ringing noises in my head that my hearing is much improved and my head is perfectly clear. I cannot speak too highly of the Boy's work.

I can now hear a whisper.

C. J. BUGH.

The Boy Phenomenon not only treats such diseases as the above, but nearly all chronic diseases yield to animal magnetism at the hands of this phenomenal magnetist.

While he remains in Janesville several weeks longer no new cases will be taken after two weeks. Therefore those who wish to take advantage of the presence here of this remarkable healer should lose no time to avail themselves of this golden opportunity which may never occur again.

For the benefit of those who cannot call during the day on account of their work or business, office hours at Hotel Myers will be extended from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

He says and we say that old and well-tried remedy Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for children's teething. It soothes the child, softens the gums, relieves all pain, cures wind colic and is the best for diarrhoea. See a bottle.

"The Village Postmaster" is without doubt the most successful of all the rural plays. It is filled with the very best and brightest of comedy, with little touches of pathos here and there, and the Chicago "Inter Ocean" of Monday, May 29th, 1901, said: "it outclasses all the other country plays put together."

The overture was equal to that of any professional company, the only black face men in this part being the bones and trombones.

George Paris as Interlocutor was hard to beat. He has a clear pleasant voice and performed his part without a slip. W. H. Chester Morse sang "Simple Little Sister Mary Green" which was one of the gems of the evening and was repeatedly encored.

Prof. Gaskins has a fine voice and his "Owl and the Moon" was well rendered. John Baumann made a hit with his German version of "Ain't that a shame?" Charles E. Lawrence sang "My Little Georgia Rose" in a manner that won an encore for him.

Will McGovern had kept the audience stirred up during the songs by his antics and was roundly applauded when Interlocutor Paris announced Mr. McGovern will sing "Well you needn't come home." He did not disappoint his audience in the least and was obliged to respond to an encore after encore. Harry Robinson sang "You'll wish me back some day" in a charming way.

Albert Smith now took a hand in the festivities and kept the audience convulsed with laughter for the next few minutes with his jokes. He sang his song "I'm going to live 'till I die" in a manner that was a surprise to his many friends who knew he was good. He was presented with two handsome bouquets by friends in the audience.

Willie Collier gave a pleasing exhibition of buck and wing dancing which earned for him an encore.

The first part closed with a laughable burlesque "five minutes at the circus" in which the parts of the "owner of the concert" and the "side show barker" were taken by McGovern and Smith. Gall Nicholson as "Fatima" the lady bareback rider, brought down the house. The second part was opened by a cafe walk by Miss Hazel Phillips and Master Noel Fulton aged five and six. Their exhibition was very good for such little tots. E. Ray Lloyd, who is one of the finest bag punchers in the United States gave an exhibition that was perfect in every particular.

Gale Nicholson and Louis Dopp gave a short sketch that was first-class. James Haggart did a pleasing turn in acrobatic work that caught the audience. The performance closed with a burlesque introducing most of the company and had many pleasing specialties.

The entire performance was of a high order and is worthy of a large house this evening. The rough edges have been taken off the performers by last night's appearance and things will go off more smoothly.
